

GLOBAL PACIFIC
FINANCIAL SERVICES LTD.

Risky Business: Looking back and leaping forward

Submitted by Anar on January 27, 2016 - 5:39pm

In 2015, our plans were about improving our service, from reducing the number of Attending Physician Statements that we order, to streamlining our tele-interviews.

As we hit the ground running in 2016, we have a number of projects and plans in motion geared to making the insurance buying process easier for you and your clients. We're focusing our time on modernizing our business, developing better risk analysis tools and arming our underwriters with improved processes and an updated philosophy that reflects the risks we are accepting.

Risky Business: Looking back and leaping forward

In 2015, our plans were about improving our service, from reducing the number of Attending Physician Statements that we order, to streamlining our tele-interviews.

As we hit the ground running in 2016, we have a number of projects and plans in motion geared to making the insurance buying process easier for you and your clients. We're focusing our time on modernizing our business, developing better risk analysis tools and arming our underwriters with improved processes and an updated philosophy that reflects the risks we are accepting.

Read more in this issue of Risky Business.

Attachment	Size	Type
Year in review - Risky Business - Jan 2016 - ENG.pdf	58.15 KB	application/pdf

Source URL: <https://globalpacific.ca/bulletins/manulife-investments/2016-01-27/risky-business-looking-back-and-leaping-forward>